

PM World Inc. Author Agreement

This Agreement is between PM World Inc. (hereinafter “PM World”) and (author name) (hereinafter the “Author”). It covers the publication of the articles, case studies, papers, reports or other original document (hereinafter “Submitted Works”) in the PM World Journal, in the PM World Library, on PM World websites, and/or as otherwise agreed between PM World and Author. The Submitted Works covered by this Agreement and forming a part of it are: TITLE OF SUBMITTED WORK HERE.

Author represents and agrees with the following:

1. PM World has the right to NOT publish any works presented for publication.
2. Author has full power and authority to voluntarily enter into this Agreement.
3. Author is (a) sole author of the Submitted Work, or (b) is a co-author of the Submitted Works; owns or shares all rights to the work; and has full power and authority to execute this Agreement.
4. If the Submitted Works are a work-for-hire, Author has received permission from employer or hiring organization to publish, and the hiring organization has granted permission to execute this Agreement.
5. The Submitted Works are original and do not infringe on the copyright or other literary rights of others and do not violate the rights of privacy or libel other persons. If the works contain copyrighted material owned by a third party, Author agrees to obtain any necessary written permission to use the copyrighted material in the Submitted Works, and shall so inform PM World in writing prior to publication by PM World.
6. If the work was previously or will be simultaneously published, Author retains copyright and has the right to offer the works to PM World without consideration to other publishers, or Author will obtain the approval to republish from other publishers, as needed, and will so notify PM World.
7. Author shall be recognized as the author (or co-author, if appropriate) of the Submitted Works and will have an Author Showcase webpage in the PM World Library where her or his profile will be presented and the Submitted Works identified, with a link provided to that document file in the PM World Library. Author may receive additional visibility and publicity for the Submitted Works, as agreed between Author and PM World.
8. Use of AI: The author attests that this work was entirely written by him/her, with use of assistive technologies for editorial, translation, research, illustration and transcription augmentation processes ok. Author also confirms that any use of assistive technologies does not transfer ownership, licenses or limitations on the use of the contents of the works that would impact the rights of PM World to publish such content.
9. Author grants PM World a non-exclusive license to publish, distribute, display and reproduce the Submitted Works in any form or medium. Author shall retain original copyright for the Submitted Works; PM World shall share copyright for the works in the form published by PM World in accordance with Creative Commons License BY-NO-SA v 4.0 at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>
10. Author agrees that visitors to PM World’s websites may read, download or print the submitted works for their personal or educational use, with no further permissions needed from Author. Reproduction for commercial purposes will require the approval of the Author in accordance with Creative Commons License BY-NO-SA v 4.0 at <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/>
11. Author agrees to indemnify and hold harmless PM World, its assignees and employees in any action arising out of facts which constitute a breach of the above representations and hold them harmless for any and all third-party claims, damages, liabilities, costs, charges and expenses including reasonable attorney’s fees arising out of any breach of above-mentioned representations, or relating to the content or publication of Submitted Works or their presentation.
