

GAPPS Board Appointment

Dear PMSA Members, Partners and Stakeholders

PMSA is thrilled to announce the appointment of our Chairman Mr Sinaye Mgolombane to the GAPPS Board of Directors effective from the 1st July 2025. This appointment is a testament of the calibre of the PMSA Leadership with regards to the advancement of the project management profession.

Sinaye Mgolombane is an accomplished Project Management Professional, Business Executive, Digital Transformation Champion, and Environmentalist from Johannesburg, South Africa. He has over two decades of multi-industry experience, including in Transport, Financial, Construction, Defence and Petrochemicals industries and sectors. He has managed and led strategic complex and mega programmes in these industries and sectors. He is currently serving as the Chairman of the Board of Directors for PMSA.

As the known advocate for the project management profession in Africa, he has authored various papers and articles such as "The Impact of AI in Infrastructure Development; "Strategic Project Governance in a Non-Projectized Environment: A South African Perspective" on the PM World Journal (<https://pmworldjournal.com/>); and has spoken on topics such as "Strategy Implementation through Projects".

The Global Alliance for the Project Professions (GAPPS) is a nonprofit organization who provides independent reference benchmarks for project management standards and assessments. It is a unique alliance of government, industry, professional associations, national qualification bodies and training/academic institutions that have been working together since 2003 to help practitioners and organisations make sense of the many standards and certifications available globally to guide the management of projects. Its primary aim is to facilitate mutual recognition and transferability of project management standards and qualifications by providing the global project management community with a reliable source of comparative information. PMSA is one of the founding members of GAPPS.

Through this directorship, we will be able to advance project management profession, thereby ensuring our PMSA Designations are recognized globally.

I am honoured to join the GAPPS Board of Directors and look forward to contributing to its continued success. I am particularly drawn to the company's commitment to the provision of thought leadership in project, programme and portfolio management, and eager to work alongside the talented team to achieve its objectives," said Sinaye Mgolombane.
